Other officers are: vice-president, James Kellar; brigadier, Norman McLean; N. H. Hartman, treasurer; Cliff Hackett, assistant treasurer; Stanley Aspinwall, secretary; G. C. McLean, assistant secretary; Malcolm McLean.

Chairmen of the various committees are: program, Dr. F. V. McCall; social, Mrs. M. L. Leppin; inter-club, R. C. Fitzpatrick; house, L. Pound; catering, James Hargrave; public relations, Mr. Macdonald; music, C. W. Hills, pianist; Douglas MacLean, soprano leader; Douglas Ross, tenor; Dorothy May, Dorothy Shaw, public affairs, Ernie Radke; education, R. Walton; memorial service, Rev. J. M. McLean; Rev. G. H. Villett and Douglas Trace.

Guest speaker at the meeting was the Right Rev. W. F. Barfoot, Anglican Bishop of Edmonton who recently returned from the Amsterdam Conference of World Churchmen.

Rev. Barfoot said the striking point of the conference was the manner in which the churches decided to stand together. He said all the delegates were represented as individuals, but at the recent meeting, they came as delegates.

In the days of the Republic of Venice, the ring was the symbol of the supremacy of Venice over the Adriatic.

FACE LIFTING JOB for Edmonton's Low Level bridge got underway this week with the addition of a second span to the structure to handle increasing city traffic. Construction of first new pier and banking of bridge approaches drew few spectators Wednesday, but employees expect to have a full quota of unpaid straw bosses from among Edmonton citizens when pile drivers begin work.

Engineering Chief Sees City As Big Industrial Capital

Canada and particularly Alberta can absorb without difficulty the thousands of engineers now hitting the industrial employment market after their release from military service.

That is the opinion of one of Canada's top engineers, Dr. J. N. Finlayson, who has been named president of the Engineering Institute of Canada, and dean of the faculty of engineering at the University of British Columbia.

Interviewed on his arrival in Edmonton yesterday, Dr. Finlayson gave his biggest share of encouragement not to old timers in the engineering field, but to the "youngsters" in the business.

Practicing engineers had expressed some concern that the industry would not be able to absorb the large number of engineers now being graduated from Canadian universities he said.

"But those of us who are in touch with conditions know that the engineer's field is active," he said.

Supply does not begin to equal the demand for trained geologists and engineering experts, resulting from oil discoveries here, he said.

"To those who would drudge up the North," he said, "North is the vast empire of natural resources at Edmonton's back door, this city will be the nucleus of Canada's largest industrial center."

"Engineers have already played an important part in development of the North; there will be and indeed there is now, an unprecedented demand for their ability to meet the challenges ahead."

Alberta's outstanding province in wealth of natural resources and potential for industrial expansion, particularly in the metalurgy and more mechanical engineers."

A Nova Scotian, Dr. Finlayson has had a practical and consulting career of 40 years.

He is a graduate of McGill University and for many years was associated with the engineering and concrete bridge departments at the university.

Later he lectured at McGill University, was professor of civil engineering and head of the Engineering Department at the University of Manitoba.

Twelve years ago he was appointed to his present position as dean of applied science at the University of Alberta.

More Books Are Sought

More books for children are needed in the Edmonton public library. H. B. Gourley, chief librarian, said Wednesday night.

He was at the Kinsmen Club's Book Home and School Association regular meeting in the KEP school.

Mr. Gourley said that 2000 children are in the book mobiles at present, and if the number continues to increase, a large number of additional books will be needed.

The book mobile is a converted truck which carries a well-stocked library to visit various districts of the city.

Mr. Gourley assured the parents that great care is taken in selecting books for children. He said efforts are made to obtain additional children's books.

The librarian also mentioned the various other services the library offers. He said three qualifications needed to make a library successful are the right books, courteous staff and good service.

Chairman of the program committee reported that the winter program is being planned and guest speakers are being sought for each meeting.

Fred Williams, president of the association, was chairman.

Open Fight Looms Among Socreds

Manning Brands Douglas Group 'Publicity-Seekers'

Dissatisfaction of Social Crediters who have formed themselves into the Douglas Social Credit Council is expected to flare into open revolt at the Socred convention in Edmonton on Nov. 23, 24 and 25.

The Douglas group, in a statement to the public yesterday, charged the Manning administration here had "repudiated" the tasks of the Socred party, though founder of the Social Credit movement, and called for a return to the original conception of his economic theories.

A. V. Bourcier, (SC, Las Ste. Anne), is president of the Douglas group, and a former member of the Alberta Social Credit board but was retired at the close of the last session when the board went out of existence.

R. Earl Anley (SC, Leduc), one time member of the Socred whose name was announced in the 1948 Alberta legislature session following a disagreement with the Socred administration on a proposal presented by L. D. Blythe, deputy minister of economic affairs, is among members of the council.

J. Gillies (SC, Edmonton), who was ousted from the staff of the Canadian Social Credit, Edmontonian, in 1946, is another known member of the group.

Political observers feel the battle between the ranks of the government party will come into the open on the floor of the Legislature next week when the Douglas group will ask condemnation of the government for "giving up the fight" for Social Credit.

They are expected to request the withdrawal of the controversial bill of a proposed program announced this week, which among other things calls for automation in the steel industry.

Perennial Arena Promises

The announcement of the Edmonton Exhibition Association that $160,000 will be spent on Arena enlargement immediately the 1948-49 hockey season is ended looks too much like a hasty perennial promise with blazing blossoms and no roots.

Edmonton sports fans, who are multiplying in zeal and numbers every year, would like nothing better than an extension to the Arena that would provide 1,272 extra seats and certain structural changes that would facilitate the ingress and egress of customers.

The whole plan, indeed, looks magnificient on paper.

But Edmonton sports fans cannot forget that at the close of the 1947-48 season the Exhibition Association, obviously perturbed by vociferous criticism, gave forth with an announcement quite as glowing as the present one.

And what happened?

Nothing.

There has been no start whatever on construction extensions.

The excuse was that no steel was available. And yet there seemed to be steel available for other building projects all over the city.

But even if no steel was available for construction, the Exhibition Association could have improved the surfacing of the parking areas and installed better lighting so that these areas would have borne a less marked resemblance to a country graveyard at midnight.

As it is, the Arena is in exactly the same condition as it was last year, with the same fine faults, the same discomfort and the same inactionism.

Edmonton people would like to believe that this promise has some substance to it, that it is more than a second effort to stall off public support for a second sports arena in a downtown location.

To be perfectly plain, it had better have some substance to it because if Edmonton is disappointed again and no actual start is made next Spring, nothing on this green earth can prevent the erection of a rival arena that could very easily put the Exhibition Association structure out of business.

GUILTY AND INNOCENT

Editor, Bulletin—In the press of Sept. 22, 1948, we read:

"...Mr. Lester's News is due for his downfall."

"He is Shirayevoyen, who as Adjutant General of the Japanese army of occupation, is accused of being directly responsible for the city's destruction in wartime."

Under the same date, we read:

"The Russians are re-opening the coal mines at Spitzbergen, Canadian miners in August 1941 were buried alive in German 'New Coal' mine. Macmillan is silent on its way back."

We all know and remember the really savage atomic destruction of two very populous Japanese cities, Hiroshima and Nagasaki, by American bombers. But Macmillan was punished for that savage murder of innocent people—the same time.

Yet my experience in recent months in Edmonton has shown that many of our married employees, though almost desirably need of staff, are unable to employ capable, experienced workers. Many of them are forced to remain idle or to earn a living by peddling or odd jobs.

Yet, in my opinion, the best application I made to four local business firms, three were refused consideration.

FROM TODAY'S NEWS

By Dovit Mackenzie

It is clear that general rehabilitation depends heavily on German recovery.

This is a disturbing thought for countries like France, Britain and America, which have stood the brunt of the Reich's initial onslaught. France is on the road to recovery, Britain is putting the Germans on their feet again industrially.

However, a remarkable change has come recently in the viewpoint of western European countries. And yesterday the Reich was held responsible for the dismantling of important German plants.

It wasn't foreseen, of course, that the conflict was going to be followed by an armistice among the Allies themselves.

The young man stood beneath a tall, thin, slender trading centre, the tallest seashore. After a few moments a figure purloined the small boat and rowed out to him, the young man on the head.

"Who drew?" he cried, indignantly.

"I don't answer like my sergeant," said the poor, disconsolate, asked the young man.

"I love your singing," she breasted, but I never did like that game."

Father didn't approve of a lot of things which happened these days, especially did he dislike the modern mode.

"I don't know what the world's coming to," he said.

Let me tell you that your mother and I are very worried about the way girls do today."

But her daughter was ready for the one.

"No," she replied, "and look what she got."

A Hollywood producer received a story entitled "The Optimist" and said: "Gentlemen, the title must be changed to something much more dramatic, something that will know what an optimist is, how many people know it's an eye doctor."

When the Communist drive against Western Europe got into full swing it became evident that defense depended on economic recovery of the war-torn countries.

That is why the Marshall plan for rehabilitation this plan has been adopted.

Their offensive is aimed at preventing the program from succeeding.

They are trying to keep Europe incapable of defending itself.

I say that world peace will depend heavily on how this program succeeds.

The world may feel it is possible to meet Moscow's threat by putting Germany on its feet—always, however, under the watchful eye of the Allies.

"RUSSIAN OFFICER" shown under military police escort after being "caught" watching U.S. troops in maneuvers at Camp Pendleton, Calif., last week, has turned out to be John D'Alfonso, reporter for the San Diego Daily Journal. The newspaper said he had donned disguise to test security measures taken by the army.

Court Fails to Find Kick in Ontario Beer

LITTLE CURRENT, Ont. Oct. 14. — (CP) — Magistrate William Golden yesterday dismissed a charge of selling intoxicating beverages on the grounds that the crown failed to prove that a "standard brand" of Ontario beer was intoxicating in police raids was intoxicating.

Ernest Franks, a Manitoulin Island hotel keeper, was charged under the Canada Temperance Act which prohibits the sale or manufacture for sale of all intoxicating beverages on the island. The charge was laid following a newspaper investigation which published and illustrated with photographs in the Sudbury Star.

The Sudbury Star reporters testified they bought and drank six bottles of a "standard brand" of Ontario beer at the Hotel Bayview Lodge, Franks' hotel.

"Were you intoxicated by the beer?" asked the magistrate.

"No," said Donald Delaplane, one of the reporters.

"Were you drunk?"

"It was a standard brand of beer with the standard reaction. I could feel the effects of it."

"I Blew This One" . . . Slobodian

Pete Slobodian doesn't stand a chance of ever winning a popularity contest with Flyer followers. They indicated as much at the Arena last night, particularly in the open forum, where the popular Lethbridge coach threatened to touch off an explosion.

Fact that he cooled out pretty well once the middle heat got underway (few of the boys were able to go the route at top speed in the lid-lifter) made no difference with the paying customers. Barraving a change of spots now would be like asking a man to sing a solo in front of the anvil chorus, embarrassed with plenty of the bronx cheer, each and everytime he sets skates on Arena ice.

But to give Slobodian credit he's a straw boy who doesn't try to pin the blame on the hired help when they aren't deserving of it.

"I blew that one," he said in the Maple Leaf dressing room after the game. "That cheap penalty in the third period did the trick."

Understand the hefty Leaf mentor wasn't questioning that he deserved to be thumbed away. It was just that from where he sized up the situation "we kinda had them on the run about then."

Flyers Enjoyed an Edge

Actually the Slobodian horde didn't have the Flyers on the run at any stage of the contest. For one thing the Leafs, who were themselves limping somewhat because of the absence of their star, had to be satisfied with fewer than a dozen good drives at Keith Woodall.

Result was Arena patrons didn't have much chance to get a line on the new nemesis's ability. He was well beaten on Huxley's goal, got a piece of the puck when rooked by Evans, skipped from end to end for Leafs' second tally.

Between times the likeable 22-year-old blond from Kitchener might as well have been playing this one from a rocking chair.

Even Hespeler, Jack Taggart and Steve Latoski bested him for the visitors.

For the oil cup holders two more newcomers, slippery Billie Battaglie, a cutie if there ever was one, and Colin Kilburn, the rookie in the camp, wasted no time getting across the board.

Battaglie is a cinch to push Morey Rimstad, Latoski, Brian McDonald and Ken (Red) Hunter the length of better to the oil cup. Kilburn is off to a fast start and last evening Kilburn should take the step up the ladder in stride.

Holmes, the "Peepul's Cherce"

There have been few popular players in the history of the Arena than Louis Holmes. He was a tremendous favorite back in his junior days, seemingly never has slipped from the pedestal. And certainly it's okay by us.

It was little though the man with the red uniform should score the first goal of the season. Also few will begrudge another veteran, Dan (Sweeney) Schrimpf, the honor of having actually rapped home the first marker of the WCHL season, a feat the one-time NHL great brought off as Regis bludgeoned Saskatoon Quakers.

Ernest Kreiter played a bang up game. As a matter of fact he belonged in the Flyer slambangs, along with the Battaglie-Pringle-Kilburns.

A great exhibition of hockey? Definitely not. But pretty good opening night fare, nevertheless.

"Once I was trying to get at him," Pug Young said in his boyish enthusiasm. "I think the big, big, big Slobodian. The big Flyer sergeant is going to be mighty handy in a shock-troupe role again this term. On this score alone one shudders to remember how close he came to getting the axe to start the 1946-47 campaign.

Buyers Muttering About Resistance

By Bea Thrifty

Just to intercept a note of gloom into this sunshiny day, let's all have a big weep about the cost of living situation.

Things have come up to a pretty pass when merchants and dealers are so tight.

Now there are items such as typewriters-rental, hock-key tickets; sewing-machines-for-rent . . . and a host of others . . . all upped in price . . . and for what good, substantial reason?

Even the consumers, with their wide-open innocence, will stand for much.

Real estate agents are feeding the birds, and the very moment some have a house for weeks, can you blame the people who want it?

I should say no! What are they going to use to buy food and clothing? They're busy paying fabulous sums for new houses and such?

A bit of cooperative buyer's resistance would do wonders for the price range . . . and restore a buyer's market.

No matter how you work and slave . . . no matter how much you save . . . there is still nothing on impossible to save money these days.

And there's another bond driving coming up. Hallelujah!

But whooshes and whoops up the ladder of smiles and cheer with the sight of Halloween decorations, costumes, and stores. These are the most fearsome masks, scads of balloons "such to be had, all the 15c."

Pumpkins, witches and sundry other citizens can be easily rearranged waiting to decorate your rumpus room for the Kids' Halloween party.

And that ain't all. Christmas decorations are beginning to appear. Santa Claus is here. Christmas is practically here.

Fat, pudgy Santa Claus, slightly grumpy reindeer were filling a counter in one of the five and dime stores.

The prices were a bit excessive, but the sets were nice.

Lunch-Box Blues Song of the Worker

Lunch-Boxes Filled with Goodies
Can be Treat Instead of Nuisance

Are you one of those people who gag at the mere mention of a "canned" lunch? Well, there's no need for you, for lunches carried to school or to work can be made just as appetizing and attractive as those served at home.

Minced meat, they take more time than is necessary to just slice a couple of sad sandwiches and an apple into a paper bag, but it's worth the time if you're in a tight spot of view.

So, if there's a school cookout or a broad-shouldered hostess, and you're desperate for something different to give them, run your eye over these suggestions.

First of all, keep in mind that a carried lunch takes the place of the noon meal. You can't pack a full meal ... not just a snack. Sure, substantial, balanced food is the best, but if you're in a pickle, try to make it appealing!

A ventilated metal lunch box is the best, but if that's impossible, use a box or paper container and don't forget to add a napkin.

One or two thermos bottles are as necessary to a carried lunch as are a knife and fork. Use a spoon and paper napkins and un-waxed paper containers, for beverages. Don't forget to add a few cracker picks, olives, sliced celery, carrots or cucumber sticks in cellophane packages.

Sandwiches are, of course, the mainstay of any lunch box, but they have to be good. If you've got a thermos of hot soup, stew, or other main course for cold days? Don't forget to add a thermos of fruit or any description fills the bill. Pack a small glass jar with dried fruit, nuts, raisins, etc., or a change from the inevitable raw apple, orange and add cookies or cake if you can afford it.

Now for the all-important sandwiches. Include at least two kinds in each lunch box. Make sure that children prefer sweet sandwiches. Very few breads that you toss in a lunch box are good. Wheat, enriched white, Boston brown, or anything else, fancy, too.

The sandwich filling can be ham and relish, cold beef, cheese and so forth, can be varied considerably. Use a good mayonnaise or sliced dressed salad. Use plain, or with minced ham or celery.

BACON PEANUT SPREAD

Cook 2 cups ground cooked chicken or turkey with 1 tablespoon of prepared mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup bacon drippings and bread. Two slices together between.

CELERY AND NUT MEAT

Combine 2 cups ground cooked chicken or turkey with 1/2 cup bacon drippings, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup peanut butter, 2 tablespoons sliced dressing. Use plain or with ground raw carrot, roasted peanuts, celery and poppy seeds.

PEANUT BUTTER AND GREEN PEAS

Mix equal parts of peanut butter and cream cheese with 1 tablespoon mayonnaise and chopped green peas. Heat if used on whole wheat bread.

DEVILED EGG SPREAD

Combine 2 cups ground cooked chicken or turkey with 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup cream cheese, 1/2 cup deviled ham, 1/2 cup deviled egg, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup chopped parsley. Moisten with mayonnaise.

MAPLE CHEESE AND

To 1/2 pound of cream cheese, add 1/4 cup cream and 2 1/2 tablespoons maple syrup. Mix well. Spread this mixture on buttered bread and toast.

BAKED BEAN SPREAD

Mash 2 cups baked beans until very soft. Add one chopped hard-cooked egg, 1 tablespoon pickle relish, 1/2 cup mayonnaise and 1/2 cup sliced dressed salad. Use plain, or with minced ham or celery.

BANANA AND COTTAGE CHEESE

Cook 4 stuffed olives and mix with 4 tablespoons cottage cheese

When in doubt, save for your baby to have fruits and vegetables, consider these important facts.

Libby's alone take an extra precaution in preparing soups, fruits and vegetables for your baby. After straining the foods, Libby's homogenizes them.

Libby's homogenization process opens up food cells. This takes part of the fun out of digesting the food from a baby's inexperienced little tummies. Libby's homogenized foods are the best foods of all the nourishment in his food.

Homogenization is a patented process and only Libby's Baby Foods are homogenized.

ALL SAFE after a crash landing on a Bahamas Island beach. Groups of passengers from a chartered plane which made a crash landing on the beach of tiny Haines Cay, watch a circling Navy rescue plane which found them. All 23 persons aboard escaped injury as the pilot belly-landed on the narrow beach. Seeing the sign "No water" in the sands, airmen dropped water, food.

More Meat, Reduced Prices Believed Over-Optimism

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(AP)—United States government forecasts of a boost in meat supplies, and lower prices by late 1948 may be over-optimistic.

Made chief by the government, these predictions have been based largely on the fact that, at the moment, the relationship between the cost of meat and stock prices is favorable for producing meat animals.

FEED COSTS DOWN

This year's record grain crop has pulled down the cost of feed, while livestock prices have remained relatively high.

But reports say the corn belt, where the bulk of the United States meat supply comes from, indicate that farmers are not jumping in to expand livestock production, as was expected, he said.

These reports say many farmers fear the price may drop sharply in the time it takes for animals to be produced, fattened and marketed.

This view was expressed by C. T. Smith, former State College economist, before an agriculture department farm outlook conference here yesterday. He was supported by several economists from other western states.

FEEDERS SKETICAL

The agriculture department itself reported steer prices among the lowest in a report yesterday. It said the volume of beef cattle to be fed in the corn belt this winter may not be greatly different from last year, because of a "cautious attitude among farmers and financing agencies."

The "uncertainty" future price of beef cattle was said to be the main factor back of this attitude.

Attempted Money Smuggling Foiled

LETHBRIDGE, Oct. 14.—(CP)—Charges with an attempt to smuggle $500,000 in American funds across the international border, two Calgary men were free last night.

Cuthbert H. Harry and Dorothy Crowe of Calgary were taken into custody at Court by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and charged with contravening the foreign exchange regulations.

They appeared in police court at Lethbridge and the preliminary hearing was adjourned for two weeks.

Federation Plan To Be Discussed

PORTE OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Oct. 14.—(CP)—With West Indians and Canadians also expected to discuss federation again next month at Bridgetown, Barbados. Americans Study Alaska Defence

Top Secret Conferences Held With MacArthur

TOKYO, Oct. 14.—(AP)—American commanders in Pacific and Alaska discussed measures to prevent another Pearl Harbor in a series of "top secret" conferences with Gen. MacArthur which ended today.

The problem of the Pacific Northwest, which includes the northwest coast of North America, the northern part of the United States, the Pacific fleet, met with MacArthur for three days.

MENTIONED DAYS

Lt.-Gen. Nathan F. Twining of the air force, commanding the Alaska defenses, and Vice-Admiral John L. Hall, commanding the United States Pacific fleet, met with MacArthur for three days.

Informed sources confirmed information on the talks to two points.

1. The American commanders discussed with MacArthur practical measures to prevent the possibility of another surprise attack.

2. The high-ranking officers attained a "line of cooperation and coordination" among the three services.

FOLLOW PATTERN

Agreements to work together in the joint field of defense, particularly of mutual defense, put forth by Defense Secretary Forrestal. The Tokyo talks got down to the practical application which must take place in the field in the event of war.

Sources reviewed the conferences made reference to the first winter amphibious landing attack exercise in the far north. It will be held next February in "the Arctic area," according to headquarters announced yesterday.

More Courteous UN Speeches Asked

PARIS, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Mrs Franklin D. Roosevelt yesterday urged Russian and other Communists speaking in the United Nations to be more courteous, and told the UN social committee, "no one who lives in the world is perfect."

Damages Yesterday

By The Canadian Press
OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—(Reuters)—Lord Kemsley, newspaper chain proprietor, Wednesday received an apology in open court for a libelous reference to him made by the Leftist Sunday newspaper Reynolds News in an advance copy of an article.

The reference did not ultimately appear in Reynolds News.

It was learned the action was settled on terms involving the apology being made in court. The defendants also agreed to pay Lord Kemsley an undisclosed sum as damages and costs.

Reynolds News referred to Lord Kemsley in the advance copy as one of the "hard-faced money-spinners who are avidly enjoying the current anti-Communist roast and hoping to transform it into a cannibal banquet in which the Left will devour itself."

TORONTO—F. M. Ellis, 70, former head of Barber-Williams iday, the yesterday turned the day around on the Dark Chamber farm, between the match, to gamble. The Lindsey shoe-store proprietor saw dollars in the mud. He filled his pockets with them and after hours marching four miles west of here is a man waited for the happiness plowing match people to come in.
